1. About The Harvest Foundation

The Harvest Foundation is a private foundation focused on place-based investments in the rural communities of Martinsville City and Henry County, Virginia. We envision a community where everyone shares in the promise of a Martinsville/Henry County (MHC) that is healthy, prosperous, and vibrant. The Foundation, in partnership with the diverse people and organizations that call MHC home, serves as a long-term catalyst, advocate, and investor to make our community a welcoming place where all can thrive. Since its establishment in 2002, Harvest has committed more than $153 million through more than 400 grants to local nonprofits and municipalities.

Our current five-year Strategic Plan is guided by our North Star of Hope and focuses on building thriving youth, a vibrant community, and a resilient and diverse economy to improve education, economic vitality, and civic capacity for community revitalization.

While grantmaking is an important aspect of the work, Harvest uses other platforms to advance our overall vision of community transformation. These include:

- Convening & Facilitating – We bring people together and support collaborative processes that lead to impact.
- Connecting – We connect public and private sectors with communities to create solutions and solve problems.
- Learning – We support shared learning so that we all have the knowledge and skills to constructively engage and collectively act.
- Catalyzing – We build momentum and spark action to bring community ideas to life. We work to renew the social fabric of our community and commitment to the common good.
- Investments – We make financial investments in community-driven projects and initiatives that align with the Foundation’s strategic objectives.

2. Purpose Overview & Background

The Harvest Foundation staff worked throughout 2021 to find a meaningful and impactful project and/or program to celebrate the Foundation's 20th Anniversary.

Throughout the foundation's strategic planning process, a common theme appeared: generally, people don't feel hopeful about their own personal future and the future of our community.

Over the years, people across the United States have become less engaged in the community and civic groups. Engaging in the community is how neighbors get to know one another and see each other as people.

Engaging in the community creates social capital, defined by Wikipedia as "the networks of relationships among people who live and work in a particular society, enabling that society to function effectively." Social capital touches so much of our lives, it helps people find jobs, find homes and of course, build friendships. It's how communities come together to create a better future for themselves.

One way to return hope to a region is through community connectivity.

The 20th Anniversary Community Projects Committee is tasked to approve small, grassroots projects that build hope in communities and get residents involved through volunteerism and positive community engagement.

The Committee will consider all proposals and make final recommendations to staff at The Harvest Foundation, where staff will make the final decision and award funding. All approved proposals will meet Harvest funding guidelines and structure.

3. Project Goals

The 20th Anniversary Community Projects Committee is looking for small projects that involve volunteers to improve the community or help a community member(s) in need. The projects should be able to be implemented in a short period of time and not require ongoing financial support. The committee will be looking for a diverse group of projects that are spread throughout MHC and include a diverse group of community members.

The proposal should address how the community members were engaged in the creation of the project and how they will be involved in the implementation.

The Committee hopes to accomplish the following:

- Plant seeds of hope in Martinsville-Henry County for the future, and develop opportunities to strengthen relationships among neighbors who come together to create a better future for themselves.
- Build grassroots communities through volunteerism and engagement by funding small projects that have an immediate impact.
- Create accessibility to The Harvest Foundation for small, grassroots organizations that typically may not apply for Harvest grants.
- Bring greater awareness of The Harvest Foundation to the overall community for those who may not be familiar with the foundation's work.
